Music Information 2024

Instrumental Music Lessons

Congratulations on choosing Instrumental Music lessons for your child!

Music is such an important aspect of your child's development, and the benefits of an instrumental music education are many. Musical activities provide children with important experiences that can help to develop physical coordination, timing, memory, visual, aural and language skills.

When students work to increase their command of music and exercise musical skills in the company of others, they gain important experience with self-paced learning, mental concentration and a heightened personal and social awareness.

Providing your child with a musical education at a young age increases the likelihood your child will become more meaningfully involved in music in later life as a listener, performer, or composer.

The Instrumental Music Tutors (IMT) at St. John's Regional College are enthusiastic, supportive, and experienced music educators. A variety of instruments are offered including singing, piano, guitar, and drums (with more available upon request).

Students who wish to learn an instrument are encouraged to choose Classroom Music as an elective in years 9 and beyond, and join at least one of the current ensembles the school offers: College Choir, Guitar Ensemble, and the Music Ministry (all free) where they can establish early musicianship skills. There is also a school musical in 2024 where all students are welcome to join.

Benefits of learning an instrument

It is a widely accepted fact that learning music is beneficial for all children, regardless of a predisposition or talent for music.

Neuroscientific research now suggests that there are transferable skills from Music to other areas of school (e.g. English and Mathematics). This is why music learning is a full brain workout! Please see the below skills that are developed:

Transferable learning

The following cognitive skills have been found to be improved by music learning

- Phonological awareness
- Language skills
- Literacy & Reading

2. If an IMT is unavailable at the scheduled time, the lesson will be made up in the current term or it will be credited from the following terms fees.
3. If the student is not available at the scheduled time the lesson will not be rescheduled unless the absence is a College approved absence.
4. The IMT will ask the College to notify parents if the student does not attend the designated lesson.
5. The College reserves the right to withhold lessons from families whose tuition fee accounts are not up to date.

School Terms

All payments are to be made per term to the finance department. There is also the option of direct debit should you prefer (please contact Mr. Almery or Mr. Vytilingam for more information). All enrolments are now done online via this link: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/sjrcinstrumentalsignup>

Tuition Times

Instrumental tuition takes place during school hours on a rotating roster basis. This attempts to prevent students missing the same lesson in class week after week, minimising serious interruption to schoolwork. It is important, however, that parents recognise and accept that enrolling children into Instrumental Music lessons that Tutors are not able to accommodate parental requests for lesson times outside of class time.

Missed Lessons

Staff Absence

Lessons missed due to IMT's being absent from school will be made up. In special circumstances where it is difficult to make up lessons, either a credit or refund of that lesson will be given.

School Excursions / Camps / SIS Sport / Activities

Lessons missed due to school-organised activities, will wherever possible, be made up. If your child cannot attend their lesson due to another commitment, please ensure you inform your child's IMT and a make-up lesson will be arranged. Instrumental Tutor's can be contacted via e-mail.

Student Illness / COVID-19

If your child is unwell and won't be attending school on the day of a music lesson please ensure you inform the Tutor before 8:30am that morning, and a make-up lesson can be arranged. At the discretion of the Tutor, one lesson may be made up due to a student isolating if they have tested positive for COVID-19 per year.

Holidays or Personal Activities within the School Terms

It is important that parents understand when making arrangements to take children on holidays or personal activities during school terms, the Instrumental Music Policy does not expect or require IMT's to make up missed lessons. Missed lessons will be charged at the normal rate.

Extended Leave

If a family is away on extended leave (four or more weeks) during the School term, missed lessons are not required to be rescheduled by the Instrumental Music Tutor unless two weeks notice has been given via e-mail to them (for our records). In that case, lessons are credited and will be made up upon the student's return to school. Parents are to ensure that IMT's are notified well in advance for this to happen.

Missed Lessons

Timetabling of Lessons

A lesson timetable will be provided to both the student and parent/guardian at the beginning of each term. It is solely the student's responsibility to confirm lesson times each week.

Arranging Make-up lessons

Any make-up lessons are to be arranged directly with the IMT via e-mail or in-person.

Contacting the College

Any general messages/enquiries regarding Instrumental Music lessons should be sent to Mr. Almerly at malmery@sjrc.vic.edu.au. Please include "Music Lesson" as the subject.

Any specific messages/enquiries should be sent as a direct message to your child's IMT via e-mail.

Please be aware that it is your child's responsibility to notify their classroom teacher that they must leave to attend their music lesson. They will sign in and out of their music lesson via the iPad in Holy Family Performing Arts Building. If they forget to attend there will be no make-up lesson.

By reading this information you are acknowledging that you have read and understood these guidelines.

The Arts & Engagement Co-ordinator reserves the right to exercise discretion in the above circumstances.

Ensembles and Choir

At St. John's Regional College we consider it important to offer a well balanced, interesting, and varied educational experience. An important aspect of a musical education is ensemble work. Playing with peers is a great way to develop part work, tuning, rhythm and phrasing skills.

When a student undertaking lessons is at a suitable skill level, they will be required to participate in one or more core ensemble weekly rehearsals that suits their level of learning (subject to teacher recommendation). Participation is an essential component of the program as it provides your child with group performance opportunities and ensemble skills. Ensemble rehearsals are held once per week; either before or after school, or lunchtime.

The College provides several core ensembles - College Choir, Guitar Ensemble, and the Music Ministry at no additional cost and are un-auditioned. The College is looking to expand and establish more in 2024-25 (they will be formed based on the instrument configurations we are able to have e.g. Rock band etc...). Students are expected to be responsible members and abide by the requests of the Ensemble Leader or Choral Director. Continued involvement in ensembles and choir is based upon regular attendance at practices, co-operation with the Ensemble Leader and/or Choral Director and meeting an appropriate standard (as determined by the Leader of the ensemble or choir).

Students involved in ensembles must make a commitment to attend regular during or before/after-school practices and rehearsals as a condition of membership.

Students who learn instruments outside of the College, are invited to participate in ensembles, providing they are at an appropriate standard (as determined by the Leader of the ensemble).

Progress Updates

IMT's at St. John's Regional College do not teach music as part of the school's curriculum, and are not required to be registered with the VIT according to the CECV guidelines. Therefore, IMT's are not asked to provide feedback on learning to students (formally and informally), or report student progress (informally and formally) to parents.

Music Record Books

Should you wish at the commencement of each year, your child will receive a Music Record Book to be used for recording homework exercises and as a valuable tool for communication between you and your child's IMT. Please ensure the record book accompanies your child to every lesson. Please notify the IMT if you'd like a book.

Instrument Hire

St. John's Regional College is able to assist parents with the hiring of instruments. Please contact Mr. Almerly or reception for further information.

Students are encouraged to purchase their own instrument if they continue learning an instrument beyond their first year. It is important to note that students who are learning on their own instrument are more likely to continue learning an instrument than students who are using a hired instrument.

Home Practise

Home practise is key to successful musical development. Without regular home practise, students do not maintain the sequential development needed to become successful on a musical instrument. The time spent on home practise will vary depending upon the age and maturity of the child. The IMT's at SJRC will assist you in determining a suitable amount of home practise time.

Parents are the key to making home practise a positive experience for their children. Make home practise a priority and provide a quiet and regular home practise environment. Take an interest, provide praise and support and contact the IMT if you have a problem.

AMEB Music Exams

Opportunity exists for students to undertake AMEB Exams, however, it is not compulsory for students learning an instrument at St. John's Regional College to undertake these exams.

Parents are invited to discuss their child's participation in AMEB Exams with their child's IMT if they are interested in this option.

The IMT reserves the right to advise parents about the appropriateness of AMEB Exams for their child. Consideration needs to be given to the child's capability, level of ability, and preparedness to practice for participation in AMEB Exams. Please discuss this with your child's IMT to ensure an informed decision is made.

There is an AMEB Exam Fee for students undertaking AMEB Exams. Parents of children undertaking AMEB Exams will be invoiced for this fee.

Home Practise tips for Parents

You can help your child gain success on their instrument by:

- Showing an interest in the music study of your child.
- Helping arrange a regular time for practise.
- Helping locate a quiet place for practise, free from interruptions, improper temperatures, poor lighting or noises.
- Helping your child with practise if you can.
- Not making fun of strange sounds you may hear.
- Having patience with your child's progress.
- Helping to remind your child of practise time.
- Helping your child to find a safe place to store their instrument.
- Keeping instruments in good repair.
- Encouraging your child to perform for others when the opportunity arises; in the home, at school, at church, in the community and for relatives.
- Attending scheduled music concerts and events.
- Encouraging your child to listen to recorded and live music.
- Having practise objectives in mind before beginning practise. Isolate problem areas in music and work on these at the onset of practise.
- Having your child work on a section of the piece that is difficult.
- Having your child maintain good posture while practising. Unless the instrument makes it impossible, stand up to practise.
- Having your child play in front of a mirror, frequently checking for good posture, embouchure and hand position. A music stand for home practise is essential for instruments other than piano.
- Ensuring your child's music books and equipment are taken to school on your child's lesson day.
- Remembering that several short practises each week can be more beneficial than one or two longer practises.

If you have any further questions, comments, or concerns regarding your child's instrumental musical education please feel free to contact Mr. Almery or any of the IMT's.
